

"Kurt A. David was inspiring and motivating. He put things into perspective and restored focus."

American Foundry Society

KURT A. DAVID

Pro Athlete, TV Host, Author, and Consultant to World Class Athletes

Kurt A. David is a man armed with many unique experiences and an advanced education. Let him lead your audience on a journey they will never forget.

Kurt has lived a life that many might envy.....as a pro athlete, highly regarded author, TV host, and consultant to world class athletes - he has gained invaluable firsthand knowledge watching people reach dizzying heights and - sometimes - subsequent slippery slopes. Kurt's message is one that your audience cannot afford to miss.

A masterful storyteller, Kurt relates to his listeners with stories easily transferable to their lives. In the process of entertaining them - he offers unparalleled life lessons that are meaningful and long-lasting on overcoming failure and gaining success.

Your people will thank you for hiring Kurt A. David to challenge and inspire them on any of the following topics:

- ADVERSITY
- CHANGE
- GOAL SETTING
- LEADERSHIP
- TEAM BUILDING
- PERFORMANCE ENHANCEMENT

"Kurt did a wonderful job presenting and his concepts are applicable to everyday lives"

American Business Women's Association

CHANGE

It's Not A Dirty Word

Three decades ago, an iconic campaign was introduced to the American public:
"This is not your father's Oldsmobile!"

The message was loud and clear. This car is bigger and better. A great change has occurred - and you're going to like it. An outstanding motivator, Kurt A. David has a similar message for your audience. Your 'old' may have been good - but with refocus, strategic networking, and the right attitude, your 'new' can be even better. Many people fear change. Kurt's mantra is to embrace it.

Mr. David speaks passionately about meeting change and adversity head-on. Sharing his personal experiences, including a pro basketball career cut devastatingly short due to injury, he educates his listeners on what to do next. Kurt recognizes the need for grieving what's lost—but understands that it's more important to move forward to the next great adventure.

He shares fascinating stories from his book, "From Glory Days," about how 20 world class athletes made the transition from fame to a successful life back in the 'real world.'

People are living with personal and professional losses in these tough economic times. We can't change where we've been, but Kurt A. David assures listeners from firsthand experience that we have a huge say in where we're going.

If you want a speaker to thrill your audience—choose a proven winner. He will leave your attendees wanting more. Get the whole package: Pro athlete, highly regarded author, TV personality, counselor and entertainer

Kurt A. David

"Mind opening presentation that truly makes you look and see how you handle your daily business"

- Continental Linen Service -

"...his talk was of immense interest, particularly because of his presentation skills and deep expertise. Kurt was very entertaining as well as informative."

- SE Michigan MENSA -